LISTEN MONDAY-FRIDAY
12-NOON!

KECO 96.5 FM

Let's Talk About Agriculture

"I actually love putting up hay, especially alfalfa. It's the smell of alfalfa when you're baling it. There's no other smell like it in the world." That's what Jimmy Clark said when asked why he loves agriculture. But his love of ag goes beyond the five senses. "I love the unity of the farming community," Jimmy said. "The way folks help each other out." Jimmy is bringing his love of the land to 96.5FM KECO week-days at noon with his new show, "Today in Agriculture, With Jimmy Clark."

Altosid IGR Mineral Tub

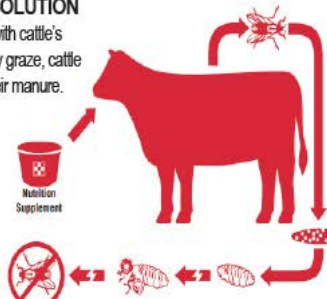

It's a fact! The constant biting of horn flies inflicts excessive stress on cattle. Fly counts can reach up to 2000 flies per animal, taking up to a gallon of blood in a 135-day fly season. Control horn flies all season with Altosid IGR Wind & Rain Mineral Tubs and you will see a difference in your herd. Begin putting Altosid IGR out in the spring. Continue feeding Altosid IGR throughout the summer until 30 days after the first frost to help prevent horn flies.

WIND AND RAIN® STORM® FLY CONTROL MINERAL CONTAINS ALTOSID®

ALTOSID® IGR SOLUTION

Altosid is ingested with cattle's mineral or feed. As they graze, cattle disperse IGR via their manure.

Adult horn flies live 2 to 4 weeks, taking 20 to 30 blood meals per day.

In 1 to 2 days, eggs hatch into larvae. After 3 to 5 days, the larvae molt into pupae.

Altosid breaks the life cycle here, preventing pupae from molting into adults.

Female flies leave the animal for a few seconds to lay eggs in fresh manure less than five minutes old.

Also available in sacks!

Remember those who are long gone

Jerry Nine
Woodward
Livestock
Auction
Woodward, OK

I was reminded of an older friend who had passed away a few years ago. I really liked this man.

The first time I ever remember speaking to him was probably about 1975. I was working at the livestock auction at Woodward and after the sale this man came in to pick up his check. He came in singing all the way down the hall as he was walking toward the office.

Now, I think he had been drinking stronger stuff than iced tea. He walked up to the woman in the office and said, “I need to pick up a check for Busser Martin,” which were slurred words from the evening’s social hour. And me, being a natural smart aleck before I thought, said, “Who’s this Busser?” Knowing his name was really Buster. I thought I shouldn’t have said that and teasing him about his slurred speech but he just laughed and we were soon friends.

A customer, who had worked for Buster for many years, brought his cattle in to sell. He says Buster was the nicest man to work for. He ran some cows but his main business was oil field equipment. Buster could tell a story in a way that it was extremely funny when someone else might tell the same story and not be funny at all.

One of his stories was about a secretary he had a long time ago who had body odor. He said there is not a way of telling a woman she has bad odor. So he said to her, “I am going to have to make a change.”

She said, “How come?” He said, “Let’s just leave it like that. I need to make a change.” She kept being persistent for him to explain. He said, “Dang it, I tried to make this easy but I guess I have to tell you—you stink.”

Another story was Buster needed a colonoscopy. Now Buster decided this wouldn’t be all that bad because there are several football games he wanted to watch over the weekend and “I can do that on these two days that I will be laying in bed.”

He said, “A lady brought in some stuff for me to drink.” Buster said, “That was the nastiest stuff and I said to the lady, ‘Are you sure I’m supposed to be drinking this stuff? It tastes to me like someone already did.’”

The bathrooms were across the hall and after several fast trips, he said, “Lady, you are going to need a flag to stop traffic when I head that way.” Then the lady came in to give him an enema. He said, “I’m already passing gas with fresh air.” Buster said, “Then they flipped me over and got out a golf putter.” He said they proceeded to see if he was a quart low.

He said, “Ma’am, have you been beating that golf putter on a rock?” His hired man said he also had a garden just to give vegetables way to people in town. My hat is off to my friend, Buster Martin.

Editor’s note: Jerry Nine, Woodward, Oklahoma, is a lifetime cattleman who grew up on his family’s ranch near Slapout, Oklahoma.

(DWC) DEEP WATER CULTURE STYLE GROW
We pride ourselves on a quality hydroponic grow process which ensure proper nutrients to our plants.

Why grow DWC? Faster growth - Plants grown in deep water culture intake more oxygen directly from the air than from the oxygen dissolved in water. DWC allows the roots to absorb large quantities of oxygen also allowing the intake of balanced nutrients. This leads to accelerated growth throughout the plant's life, bringing quality medical cannabis to the patients quicker. In DWC, growers have control over nutrients, which means growers can fix nutrient problems quickly. DWC growers are also least likely to have their garden attacked by bugs or pests (though it's definitely still possible). Therefore, it reduces the need for pesticides, allowing us to keep your medicine clean and sticky!! We believe DWC is the best way to grow cannabis.

FEATURED STRAIN OF THE MONTH!

STORM CHASER

STORM CHASER (hybrid) is a cross of Skywalker x Kasher Chem x Zookies, which makes it a wonderful heavy indica strain. It's great for insomnia, as well as anxiety, ADHD, bipolar disorder, migraines, and PMS. It's particularly effective at pain relief. The taste is pungent and sweet, with earthy tones. The indica stress relief of this versatile strain makes it a good choice for patients looking for some mental and physical relief. This strain is great for your mind and body! Thank you RED ROCK REMEDIES for this smooth and relaxing TOP SHELF medicine!

Understanding What We Read

WHO DO WE BELIEVE?

Matthew 7:15 Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves.

Matthew 7:21-22 Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works?

II Timothy 4:3 For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine; but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears.

Romans 16:17-18 Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offences contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and avoid them. 18For they that are such serve not our Lord Jesus Christ, but their own belly; and by good words and fair speeches deceive the hearts of the simple.

Matthew 24:24 For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect.

II John, Verse 9 Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son.

John 17:3 And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent. (Key: 1st Timothy 2:5)

Romans 10:9 That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. (Who raised who from the dead?)

I Corinthians 15:1-5 Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand; By which also ye are saved, if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain. For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures: And that he was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve: The Key : 2nd Timothy 2:15

America's Energy Reliability, Part 3

By: Mark A. Stansberry,

Energy Talk

America's energy reliability is essential for both the power generation and transportation needed for our country. As the last two articles on America's energy reliability have stated, accessibility, affordability and reliability are vital for a strong US economy and security.

As I stated in a column I wrote in 2014, after being asked, "what is the US electric grid?", "There are three systems that provide electricity throughout the country. There is not a US power grid. (A power grid is defined as an interconnected network for the delivery of electricity from suppliers to consumers.)

The three grids are in the contiguous 48 states. These are the following grids: 1) Texas system, 2) the Western system which goes from the Pacific Ocean to the Rockies, and 3) the Eastern system.

As the US Energy Information (EIA) states, "Transmission and distribution lines owned by an individual utility are no longer resources to be used only by that utility. Electrical systems have been expanded and interlinked.

The systems now provide the associated transport of electricity on the transmission lines where buyers and sellers may be geographically spread apart."

According to the EIA, "originally, each generating company was responsible for maintaining its own electrical system safely and planning for the future needs of its customers. Later, voluntary standards were developed by the electric utility industry to coordinate for linked interconnection operations. These voluntary standards were instituted after a major blackout in 1965 that impacted New York, a large portion of the East Coast, and parts of Canada...the interlinked systems now include over 3200 electric distribution utilities, over 10,000 generating units, tens of thousands of miles of transmission and distribution lines, and millions of customers."

Our national security has long been one of the most important assets we cherish. For that reason, we cannot afford to become addicted to energy at any cost. Today, nothing in America moves without energy, but the definition of energy security also extends to power generation.

We don't have a good balance of sources that can get us to our goal of total independence. We are still using many forms of energy. Although certain energy sectors are more predominant than others, there is definitely room for natural gas to grow.

Natural gas holds promise for power generation. The share of US natural gas-fired electricity generating capacity increased from 17% in 1990 to 43% in 2020. Given the enormous finds here, we should establish a more efficient, accessible natural gas transportation and distribution system.

In January of 2014, a warning went out that it was important that reduction of electric usage was needed in Texas (the Texas Grid). The risk of power outages was strongly possible. According to an article by Loren Steffy, "in January, power plants unexpectedly went offline when the state needed them most. This time blackouts were averted, but barely." He goes on to state, "as the threat of rolling blackouts in winter and summer demonstrates, Texas isn't producing enough electricity to meet our needs."

It is time we come together! The US has the immediate challenge of striving for energy independence. It is extremely important that the US be in a strong position of securing energy reserves within its own boundaries and maintaining a dependable energy infrastructure.

America needs America's energy! All forms. All American. Future generations are depending on us to keep the American dream alive!
