Green Grass, Good Cows, and One Last Laugh

by: Jerry Nine – Woodward, Okla.

This gives them a chance to reflect on the good times and it seems to be helpful in my mind. However everyone approaches things different and affects each person differently. I know that this is a deep cut but I do think you should ask. So I keep praying for a good day. Count your blessings.

Some say with the grass conditions improving and decreasing cull numbers, that it appears that we are beginning the rebuild over herd.

All I can say is the cull price is good. I bought a few feeding cows and a guy that cost $1.50-$1.65 and some brought more. The better straight cows that had some flesh would bring $1.60 to $1.65 a cut.

I had a few young pairs for sale at one time for $2400-$3000 which would normally seem extremely high. However that will only buy 2 steers at 900 pounds.

At my funeral I want one of my friends to stand up and say: "Well at least he quit drinking."

My friend Dale went to the doctor and his wife went into the doctor's office with him. Dale's daughter called her dad and said, "What did the doctor say?" Dale said, "He said I'm a beast." His wife said, "You idiot. He said you were obese."

My boss said to me in order to focus that I should leave my problems at the door. Now he is mad at me because he is locked outside.

Editor's note: The views expressed here are the author's own and do not represent the view of The Penny News. Jerry Nine, Woodward, Oklahoma, is a lifetime cattleman who grew up on his family's ranch near Slapout, Oklahoma.

Oklahoma Drought-Free for First Time in Nearly Six Years

June 12, 2025 • Oklahoma is officially drought-free—for the first time since June 25, 2019.

The U.S. Drought Monitor map released Thursday, June 12, 2025, shows no signs of drought across the entire state. Not even the typical "Abnormally Dry" (D0) category appears on the map. For Western Oklahoma, which often takes the hardest hit, it's a welcome relief.

The turnaround follows a spring of steady rain and below-average temperatures. In the last 60 days, rainfall totals include 14.3 inches in Weatherford, 17 inches in Clinton, 15.5 inches in Elk City, 15.4 inches in Cheyenne, and 10.7 inches in Mangum.

That much rain has been a blessing and a challenge. While ponds and lakes are full—some in north-west Oklahoma, up to 22 feet above normal, according to the Oklahoma Mesonet—muddy fields are making wheat harvest nearly impossible for many producers.

Still, the bigger story is clear: Oklahoma is out of drought. How long it lasts is anyone's guess, but for now, the skies are giving farmers and ranchers something rare—peace of mind.

Elk City High School Graduate Named OCU A.D.

June 13, 2025 • By Landry Brewer: Oklahoma City, OK – Elk City native Sadiia Jones was recently hired as the new Oklahoma City University Athletics Director.

The 1995 Elk City High School graduate has been Executive Athletic Director for Dallas College since 2021. Before that, Jones served as Athletic Director at Seminole State College in Seminole and Associate Athletic Director for Compliance and Student Services at Northwestern Oklahoma State University in Alva.

Jones earned a master's degree in Education Administration and a bachelor of science degree in Health and Physical Education Recreation from Southeastern Oklahoma State University, and an associate's degree in arts from Seminole State College. Before becoming an athletics administration professional, she was an assistant women's basketball coach at California State University Fresno for six years.

She competed in college athletics at both Seminole State and Southeastern Oklahoma State University.

As an ECHS senior, Jones was a member of the 1995 3A State Championship girls' basketball team in its first year to play 5-on-5.

The Elkettes defeated Bristow 54-29 before 7,000 fans at State Fair Arena in that year's title game and finished the season with a perfect 29-0 record.

SWOSU and OSIDA Partner to Expand Workforce Opportunities

June 13, 2025 • SWOSU Press Release: Southwestern Oklahoma State University (SWOSU) and the Oklahoma Space Industry Development Authority (OSIDA) signed an MOU on June 9 at SWOSU's Weatherford campus. The agreement names SWOSU as an official educational partner of OSIDA and aims to boost aerospace education, workforce development, and industry engagement.

SWOSU President Dr. Diana Lovell and OSIDA Board Chair Dr. Brenda Rolls signed the agreement, highlighting its impact on student career pathways and Oklahoma's aerospace industry. OSIDA toured SWOSU's Department of Engineering Technology and spoke with students about future opportunities.

The partnership creates a framework for student internships, jobs, and collaboration at the Oklahoma Air & Space Port in Burns Flat. Plans include support for UAV testing and ties to military programs. It also builds on SWOSU's relationship with Premium Aerospace, which hires SWOSU graduates.

Leaders from local, state, and national offices attended the event, including representatives from Congressman Frank Lucas, Senator James Lankford, State Senators Darcy Jech and Brent Howard, and former NASA Administrator Jim Bridenstine.

For more about SWOSU programs, visit www.swosu.edu.
