Cattle And Men

by: Jerry Nine – Woodward, Okla.

Last week I was at the cattle auction and a Dad and his son were selling their calves. The Dad spoke up when their cattle came in to sell and hollered out loud what shots the calves had received and how long weaned. When the auctioneer said thank you to them after selling their last bunch he said to them, “Did your son do all the work?”. The dad hollered and castrated all the bulls which were about 30 head. I was sitting close so I said to the boy, “Did you castrate with a knife?”. He said, “Yes”. I said, “How old are you?”. He said, “I am 12”. I said, “Young man, I am very proud of you. That is great”. Too many dads let their kids stay in the house and play video games instead of being outside with them. That boy will do well in life. If you learn to work as a young kid you want to work and just expect to. Keep in mind, kids learn more by watching you than they do by listening to you. I have several people say to me, “When are you going to retire?” I say, “Never. I would be extremely bored with no purpose”.

Last Friday evening I got my phone and looked to see what the futures had done that day. To my surprise the first 5 months quoted were from $6.25 to $807.50 cwt higher, and the first three months quoted were from $3.40 to 3.975 cwt higher. June fat cattle were $238.775 which was the highest month. April used to be always higher than June by several dollars cwt. The highest feeder cattle futures was April 2026 at $361.45.

I heard some 2 year old pairs at a special sale brought $6,600 to $6,700. I’m guessing there are quite a few cattlemen that have more money than me. And when they use the word interest they are talking about collecting.

My son went to apply for another job. I asked him, “Did you get the job?”. He said, “Well they said they would pay me $15.00 per hour starting tomorrow and in 6 months pay me $25.00”. I said, “I will just wait 6 months to start”. Anytime I get a headache I take 2 Ibuprofens and then keep away from my children just like the bottle says.

I just saw 4 men kicking and punching my mother-in-law. My wife said, “Are you going to help?”. I said, “No, 4 should be enough”.

Editor’s note: The views expressed here are the author’s own and do not represent the view of The Penny News. Jerry Nine, Woodward, Oklahoma, is a lifetime cattleman who grew up on his family’s ranch near Sapout, Oklahoma.

RED ANGUS
44 BULLS AND 80 COW-CALF PAIRS

IPM CST April 4th 2026

LOCATION
J.S. Birdwell Ag Center
111 N. Burnett St. Wichita Falls Texas 76306

SINCE 1945

When Red Angus came from Scotland to America, the Beckton family started building a better cow for the hard country of Wyoming.

Sparse pasture. Tough winters.
No room for weak cattle.

They kept the herd closed.
No outside bulls.
No shortcuts.

Eighty years later, the results are proven.

For 25+ years Red River Red Angus has bred Beckton cattle producing only one calf ever over 70 pounds at birth.

High percentage Choice and Prime carcasses.

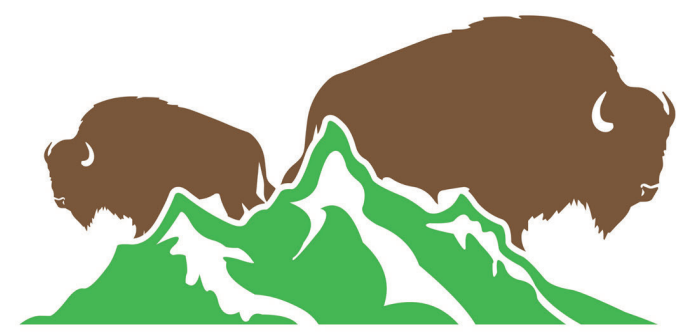

Up to 30% savings on pasture, feed, and hay.

Same grass. Same ground.
Beckton genetics.

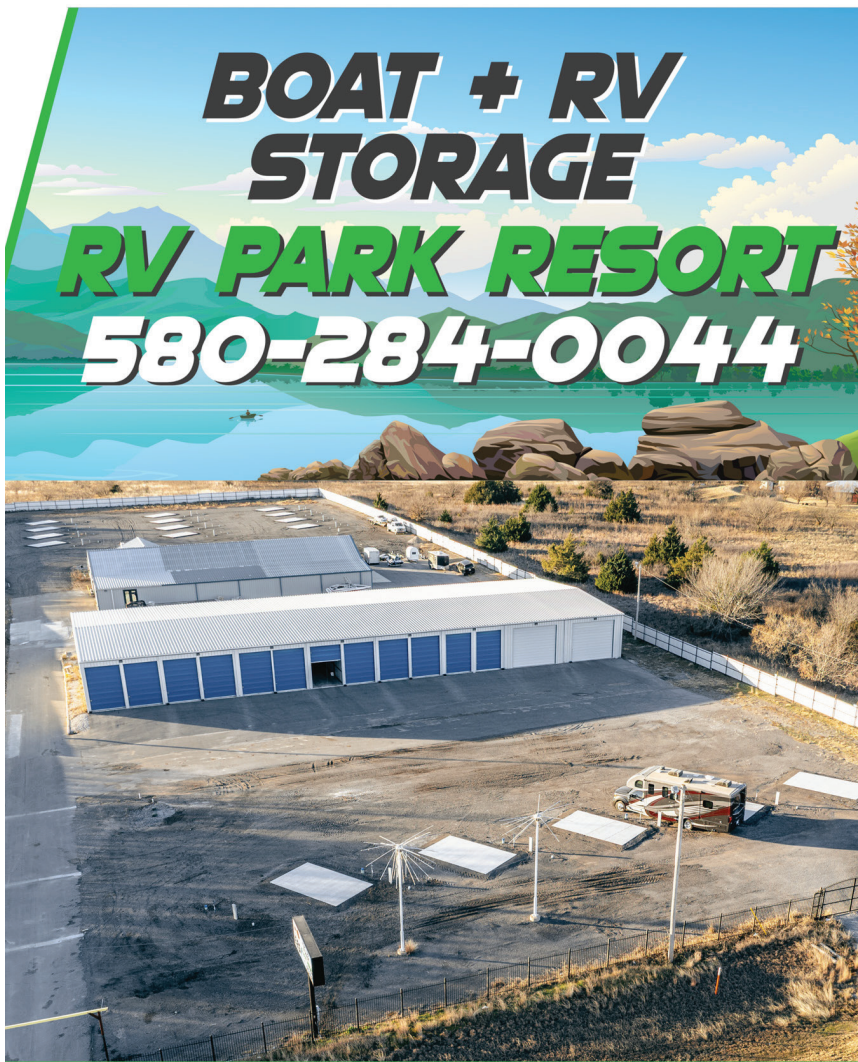

Up to 60% more profit.

Custer City Man Charged in Series of Grass Fires

March 30, 2026 • Custer County, OK — A Custer City man has been charged with multiple felony counts after authorities say he set a series of grass fires across two western Oklahoma counties over several weeks.

Skyler Dean Terrell, 31, faces eight counts of third-degree arson and one count of engaging in a pattern of criminal offenses, according to court records. The charges stem from fires reported between Feb. 18 and March 16 in Custer and Dewey counties. Investigators allege the fires were intentionally set along rural roadways and pastureland, burning hundreds of acres of grass and damaging fencing on multiple properties. Some fires spread rapidly, including one that burned more than 100 acres and prompted road closures due to heavy smoke.

According to a probable cause affidavit, Terrell was seen at multiple fire scenes, often arriving before emergency crews and attempting to put out the flames. In several instances, he reported the fires himself. Authorities said Terrell later admitted to setting the fires with a cigarette lighter. Investigators reported he said he missed being a firefighter and believed being present at fire scenes might help him return to a department.

The incidents occurred in both Custer and Dewey counties, leading to the additional charge alleging a pattern of criminal activity across county lines.

If convicted, each arson charge carries a potential sentence of up to eight years in prison and a fine of up to $10,000. The pattern of criminal offenses charge carries a possible sentence of up to two years.

Court proceedings are pending.

Drummond Highlights Rural Roots, Public Safety Record in Governor Bid at Elk City Event

March 29, 2026 • Elk City, OK – Oklahoma Attorney General Gentner Drummond brought his campaign for governor to western Oklahoma Friday night, speaking at the Elk City Golf and Country Club.

Addressing a local crowd, Drummond leaned on his rural upbringing, military service, and record in office as reasons he believes he is prepared to lead the state.

Drummond traced his roots back to Osage County, where his family has lived since the late 1800s. He described growing up on a cattle ranch near Hominy, later serving as an Air Force pilot flying F-15s during the Gulf War, and eventually returning home to build a business and raise his family.

He also emphasized his private sector experience, noting he stepped away from multiple businesses employing more than 500 people when he took office as attorney general.

During his remarks, Drummond pointed to several priorities from his time in office, including shutting down illegal marijuana grow operations tied to organized crime, increasing government transparency, and pursuing action against out-of-state companies over environmental and insurance concerns. Looking ahead, Drummond outlined five main goals if elected governor: strengthening education, protecting rural healthcare, expanding mental health services, building a skilled workforce, and improving partnerships with tribal nations.

“I want to keep our young people here in Oklahoma,” Drummond said.

Drummond is one of several candidates in the Republican primary. According to Ballotpedia, the official GOP field includes Chip Keating and Jennifer Domenico-Tillett, alongside Drummond.

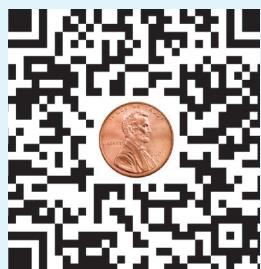

The Republican primary is scheduled for June 16, 2026, with a runoff set for August 25 if no candidate receives a majority.

On the Democratic side, Cyndi Munson is currently the only declared candidate.

The general election for Oklahoma governor will take place November 3, 2026.

Drummond closed by asking for voters’ prayers, support, and votes, saying his leadership is guided by doing what is right rather than what is politically convenient.
